

Instrumentation Engineering Technology Industry Night

The students and staff of the SAIT Instrumentation Engineering Technology Program cordially invite you and your company to participate in our Rapid Network Exchange. Network with industry professionals and upcoming SAIT Instrumentation graduates in an organized rotating 10 minute 'rapid dating' question & answer sessions.

Our specific purpose is to have industry professionals, network with the industry professionals of the future.

This is an excellent opportunity to meet and share your expertise with our instrumentation students. Help expand the student's understanding of the many opportunities open to them in the instrumentation industry. The contribution of qualified professionals like you is essential to the success of the event.
